Birth Announcement

Benjamin Button and Flaca proudly announce the birth of their latest cria, a beautiful baby girl. Stop by the Petting Zoo to see this baby, and watch for a naming contest coming in the New Year! Visit our YouTube page to watch her birth!

Christening Day

At Buena Vista, our animals have forever homes. Our followers helped us name our most recent rescue rabbit. Welcome to our family, Stormie! If you missed the FB Live announcement, you can watch it on our YouTube page.

In the Wild

When you visit the Safari, make sure to look for our new baby Blackbuck.

Happy Holidays from the Hill!

There aren't any GRINCHES at Buena Vista! We have been busy setting up free Holiday Photo Ops for you to enjoy - whether you just drop by, visit the Safari for the day, or linger longer in one of our beautiful cabins or at the RV Park. #HolidayontheHill

School's out

Looking for a great get-away while the kids are out of school? There's plenty to do at Buena Vista. After you see the Safari animals, enjoy games under the Pavilion, heat up a lunch in the Event Center kitchen, spend time at the Petting Zoo, shop a bit in our WildSide Gift Shop, and wander through quaint Downtown Evant.

A NATURALLY WILD TIME

Buena Vista Fun Fact:

Most alpacas are born in the morning. This is because where they come from is cold at night. The newborns need time to dry off, feed, and get on their feet before nightfall!
